Footnotes: ¹ The phrase “hybrid shareholder meeting” refers to an in-person meeting in which shareholders are also permitted to participate online. ² The phrase “virtual-only shareholder meeting” refers to a meeting of shareholders that is held exclusively through the use of online technology without a corresponding in-person meeting.	Footnotes: ¹ The phrase “hybrid shareholder meeting” refers to an in-person meeting in which shareholders are also permitted to participate online. ² The phrase “virtual-only shareholder meeting” refers to a meeting of shareholders that is held exclusively through the use of online technology without a corresponding in-person meeting. ³ The phrase "in-person meeting" refers to a meeting in which participating shareholders and board members meet in a specified physical location together. At an in-person meeting, shareholders and board members are physically present, enabling direct, in-person interaction.

Rationale for Change:

This update adds a definition to the phrase, “in-person meeting.”

Amendments to Constitution Regarding Virtual-Only Meetings (Australia and New Zealand)

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
Amendments to Constitution Regarding Virtual-Only Meetings (Australia) Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally, vote for proposals which allow the company to convene hybrid¹ shareholder meetings. Generally, vote against proposals that will permit the company to convene virtual-only² shareholder meetings, except under exceptional circumstances. Generally, vote against proposals where the proposed wording in a company's amended constitution is ambiguous, and nevertheless creates an ability for the company to convene virtual-only meetings, except under exceptional circumstances.	Amendments to Constitution Regarding Virtual-Only Meetings (Australia and New Zealand) Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally, vote for proposals which allow the company to convene hybrid¹ shareholder meetings. Generally, vote against proposals that will permit the company to convene virtual-only² shareholder meetings, except under exceptional circumstances. Generally, vote against proposals where the proposed wording in a company's amended constitution is ambiguous, and nevertheless creates an ability for the company to convene virtual-only meetings, except under exceptional circumstances.
Footnotes: ²The phrase "virtual-only shareholder meeting" refers to a meeting of shareholders that is held exclusively through online technology in the absence of a concurrent in-person meeting.	Footnotes: ²The phrase "virtual-only shareholder meeting" refers to a meeting of shareholders that is held exclusively through online technology in the absence of a concurrent in-person meeting.

Rationale for Change:

Virtual-only meetings may impact on shareholder rights in holding directors publicly accountable and may hinder meaningful exchanges between directors and shareholders. There has been considerable public feedback from many institutional and retail investors that any move to a virtual-only shareholder meeting structure is not supported by them. There has also been commentary regarding concerns that some companies have limited shareholder engagement through virtual-only meetings but requiring shareholder questions to be submitted to the company several days before the meeting, and anecdotal information that certain meetings were ended prematurely, denying some shareholders a right to participate and ask their questions.

The updated policy clarifies that hybrid meetings would be supported under Catholic Advisory Services International policy for the New Zealand market, given that such meetings would not impact negatively on shareholder rights and represents the preferences of many shareholders, and confirms that proposed amendments to a company's constitution that allow for virtual-only meetings or incorporate vague and ambiguous wording that could reasonably be construed to allow for virtual-only meetings will not be supported.

This update to the Catholic Advisory Services International policy is consistent with the ISS Australia Benchmark policy on this topic, which was introduced in 2021.

Board of Directors

Footnotes: ⁴ Underrepresented gender identities include directors who identify as women or as non-binary.	Footnotes: ⁴ The underrepresented gender identities includes directors who identify as women or as non-binary.

Rationale for Change:

Catholic Advisory Services' International guidelines on board diversity have continually updated, increasing the levels of gender diversity as different markets have introduced new thresholds. The past five years have seen a growth in the rate of markets increasing their standards and expectations for gender diversity thresholds, some of which, but not exclusive to the NZX Corporate Governance Code, Malaysia's Code on Corporate Governance, and Continental Europe's Gender Balance of Corporate Boards Directive. In such markets, boards are challenged to meet varying proportions of gender diversity on the board, most commonly ranging from 30-40 percent.

These policy changes are consistent with the increasing focus by many investors on board diversity at the global level and bring the Catholic Advisory Services policy in line with increasing client expectations, recently confirmed at the 2025 Catholic Faith-based Client Roundtable. The 30 percent minimum threshold establishes a new minimum baseline requirement for all international markets unless otherwise specified, moving beyond the previous minimum baseline threshold in this policy. The policy language has also been updated regarding the underrepresented gender.

European Guidelines

Timely Disclosure of Shareholder Meeting Materials

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
N/A	2. Board of Directors [...] Election of Censors (France) [...] Timely Disclosure of Meeting Materials Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally, vote against the re-election of the chair of the audit committee, another audit committee member, the board chair, or any other relevant nominee (on a case-by-case basis), if the company has frequently failed to disclose comprehensive meeting materials for shareholders in a timely manner. Shareholder meeting materials should be published well in advance of the general meeting, ideally no later than 30 days ahead of the meeting date (or any more stringent market best practice), and ultimately no later than 21 days before the meeting date (or any more stringent market deadline). In certain cases, including meetings of issuers not listed on a regulated market shareholder proposals, additional disclosures for the purpose of clarification, or exceptional/other market-specific circumstances, an exception may be made provided there is a reasonable explanation and the disclosure allows investors to adequately assess the proposals.

Rationale for Change:

To enable their shareholders to make informed vote decisions, companies should provide clear and timely information sufficiently ahead of their shareholder meetings. Notably, as per the Shareholder Rights Directive I, EU Member States shall ensure that companies listed on a regulated market disclose the meeting notice, the documents to be submitted to the general meeting as well as draft resolutions and the like at least 21 days before the general meeting. In addition, in its Report on the Implementation of SRD2 provisions, the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) recommended that the European Commission potentially extend across the EU the timeline provided for the publication of meeting materials to provide shareholders with more time to perform their analysis and exercise their rights.

European best practice in many markets considers the publication of all meeting materials at least one month in advance of the shareholder meeting, however later publication of meeting materials remains a key issue in some markets, with limited improvements over recent years. In this regard, in its letter to the European Commission dated May 9, 2025, the ICGN advocated that the revised Shareholder Rights Directive should require that meeting materials be distributed well in advance of the shareholder meeting - for instance 30 to 40 days before - to enable shareholders to make informed voting decisions.

Accordingly, Catholic Advisory Services has revised its Continental European policy guidelines to incorporate a clear expectation regarding timely disclosure. Effective in 2026, the policy will be applied in cases of non-timely disclosure over two or more consecutive years; thus, potential adverse vote recommendations will only be made starting in 2027.

International Guidelines

Cumulative Voting – Middle East and Africa (MEA)

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
Under a cumulative voting system, each share represents a number of votes equal to the size of the board that will be elected. These votes may be apportioned equally among the candidates or, if a shareholder wishes to exclude some nominees, among the desired candidates. For MEA markets, when directors are elected through a cumulative voting system, or when the number of nominees exceeds the number of board vacancies, vote case-by-case on directors, taking into consideration additional factors to identify the nominees best suited to add value for shareholders. Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote to abstain from all candidates if the disclosure provided by the company is not sufficient to allow the assessment of independence and the support of all proposed candidates on equal terms. If the disclosure is sufficient to allow an assessment of the independence of proposed candidates, generally vote in favor of the following types of candidates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Candidates who can be identified as representatives of minority shareholders of the company, or independent candidates: ▪ Candidates whose professional background may have the following benefits: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Increasing the diversity of incumbent directors' professional profiles and skills (thanks to their financial expertise, international experience, executive positions/directorships at other listed companies, or other relevant factors). ▪ Bringing to the current board of directors relevant experience in areas linked to the company's business, evidenced by current or past board memberships or management functions at other companies. ▪ Incumbent board members and candidates explicitly supported by the company's management. 	Under a cumulative voting system, each share represents a number of votes equal to the size of the board that will be elected. These votes may be apportioned equally among the candidates or, if a shareholder wishes to exclude some nominees, among the desired candidates. For MEA markets, when directors are elected through a cumulative voting system, or when the number of nominees exceeds the number of board vacancies, vote case-by-case on directors, taking into consideration additional factors to identify the nominees best suited to add value for shareholders. Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote to abstain from all candidates if the disclosure provided by the company is not sufficient to allow the assessment of independence and the support of all proposed candidates on equal terms. If the disclosure is sufficient to allow an assessment of the independence of all proposed candidates, generally vote in favor of the following types of candidates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Candidates who can be identified as representatives of minority shareholders of the company, or independent candidates: ▪ Candidates whose professional background may have the following benefits: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Increasing the diversity of incumbent directors' professional profiles and skills (thanks to their financial expertise, international experience, executive positions/directorships at other listed companies, or other relevant factors). ▪ Bringing to the current board of directors relevant experience in areas linked to the company's business, evidenced by current or past board memberships or management functions at other companies. ▪ Incumbent board members and candidates explicitly supported by the company's management.

For Middle Eastern and North African markets, if overall board independence is less than one-third (excluding, where relevant, employee shareholder representatives), generally vote in favor of independent nominees only (per Catholic Advisory Services' classification of directors).

Rationale for Change:

In several Middle Eastern and North African markets, including Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates, Egypt, and Qatar, publicly listed companies are required by local laws and regulations to use cumulative voting to elect their board of directors. However, for the Kuwaiti market, Module 15 of the Executive Bylaws regarding Corporate Governance, issued under law No. 7 of 2010, does not mandate the use of cumulative voting. Instead, companies have discretion to apply cumulative voting or any other method for the election of board members.

At the 2025 AGM season, a new practice emerged in the Kuwaiti market, where companies have started disclosing the names of board nominees along with their independence classification (which was not the case before). This change stems from circular No. 12/2024 issued by the Capital Markets Authority (CMA) of Kuwait on Dec. 30, 2024, requiring all listed companies to announce a minimum one-month nomination period and disclose the list of nominees approved by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, including their biographies and independence classifications. In the majority of cases, companies nominate more candidates than vacant board seats while not obligatorily applying cumulative voting.

Despite this developing good disclosure practice in Kuwait, the Corporate Governance Module 15 requires companies' board of directors to include at least one independent member. This minimum legal requirement falls below the recommended guidelines as per Catholic Advisory Services International Policy guidelines, which specify a minimum of one-third percent board independence post elections (excluding employee shareholder representatives, if any). While Kuwaiti companies generally comply with the provisions of the law and the code, in practice, some companies put forward an insufficient slate of independent candidates to meet the recommended one-third threshold and in a few cases the number of independent candidates nominated — when assessed under Catholic Advisory Services' independence classification, which may differ from the company's own classification — is insufficient to meet the recommended one-third board independence threshold.

To address cases where the board independence level falls below the recommended one-third threshold (excluding employee shareholder representatives, if any), Catholic Advisory Services Policy has been updated such that support is recommended only for independent nominees.

Rationale for Change:

This is an update of the classification framework for directors who receive compensation levels comparable to the company's top executives. Previously, such directors were generally reclassified as executive directors. Going forward, they may instead generally be classified as non-independent non-executive directors, unless there is clear evidence of actual management responsibilities.

This change ensures that Catholic Advisory Services International policy reflects both the legal and conceptual distinction between executives and non-executives, while continuing to capture independence concerns linked to excessive or performance-based pay. The revised approach strengthens the conceptual foundation of Catholic Advisory Services' director classification policy while maintaining rigorous safeguards against compromised independence. By clearly distinguishing between executive function and independence status, Catholic Advisory Services provides a more accurate, consistent, and transparent framework for assessing board composition and governance risks. Executive status is a function of duties, while independence is a function of relationships and incentives; the revision reflects this distinction.

Compensation

Equity-Based Compensation Guidelines

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote for equity based compensation proposals or the like if the plan(s) is(are) in line with long-term shareholder interests and align the award with shareholder value. This assessment includes, but is not limited to, the following factors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ The volume of awards (to be) transferred to participants under all outstanding plans must not be excessive: awards must not exceed 5 percent of a company's issued share capital. This number may be up to 10 percent for high-growth companies or particularly well-designed plans (e.g., with challenging performance criteria, extended vesting/performance period, etc.); ■ The plan(s) must be sufficiently long-term in nature/structure: the vesting of awards (i) must occur no less than three years from the grant date, and (ii) if applicable, should be conditioned on meeting performance targets that are measured over a period of at least three consecutive years; ■ If applicable, performance conditions must be fully disclosed, measurable, quantifiable, and long-term oriented; ■ The awards must be granted at market price. Discounts, if any, must be mitigated by performance criteria or other features that justify such discount. 	Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote for equity-based compensation proposals or the like if the plan(s) is(are) in line with long-term shareholder interests and align the award with shareholder value. Rationale for Change:

The amended policy text clarifies that, for an equity-based long-term incentive plan to be considered sufficiently long-term under Catholic Advisory Services' equity compensation policy for Continental Europe, the performance targets must be measured over an unbroken three-year period. The updated language does not represent a change in the scope or application of the policy, as its implementation across Europe remains unchanged. The change is made to better reflect the existing policy application, and to avoid potential misunderstandings in the policy interpretation.

Stock Option Plans – Adjustment for Dividend (Nordic Region)

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Vote against stock option plans in Denmark, Finland, Norway, and Sweden if evidence is found that they contain provisions that may result in a disconnect between shareholder value and employee/executive reward. This includes one or a combination of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Adjusting the strike price for future ordinary dividends AND including expected dividend yield above 0 percent when determining the number of options awarded under the plan; ▪ Having significantly higher expected dividends than actual historical dividends; ▪ Favorably adjusting the terms of existing options plans without valid reason, and/or ▪ Any other provisions or performance measures that result in undue award. This policy applies to both new plans and amendments to introduce the provisions into already existing stock option plans. Catholic Advisory Services will make an exception if a company proposes to reduce the strike price by the amount of future special (extraordinary) dividends only. Generally vote against if the potential increase of share capital amounts to more than 5 percent for mature companies or 10 percent for growth companies or if options may be exercised below the market price of the share at the date of grant, or that employee options do not lapse if employment is terminated.	Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Vote against stock option plans in Denmark, Finland, Norway, and Sweden if evidence is found that they contain provisions that may result in a disconnect between shareholder value and employee/executive reward. This includes one or a combination of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Adjusting the strike price for future ordinary dividends AND including expected dividend yield above 0 percent when determining the number of options awarded under the plan; ▪ Having significantly higher expected dividends than actual historical dividends; ▪ Favorably adjusting the terms of existing options plans without valid reason, and/or ▪ Any other provisions or performance measures that result in undue award. This policy applies to both new plans and amendments to introduce the provisions into already existing stock option plans. Rationale for Change:

The contents of this policy are already covered under the general "equity-based compensation guidelines," making this specific policy provision superfluous.

Environmental and Social Issues

Social and Environmental Proposals

Current Catholic Advisory Services Policy:	New Catholic Advisory Services Policy:
Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote in favor of social and environmental proposals that seek to promote good corporate citizenship while enhancing long-term shareholder and stakeholder value. In determining votes on shareholder social and environmental proposals, the following factors are considered: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Whether the proposal itself is well framed and reasonable; ▪ Whether adoption of the proposal would have either a positive or negative impact on the company's short-term or long-term share value; ▪ Whether the company's analysis and voting recommendation to shareholders is persuasive; ▪ The degree to which the company's stated position on the issues could affect its reputation or sales, or leave it vulnerable to boycott or selective purchasing; ▪ Whether the subject of the proposal is best left to the discretion of the board; ▪ Whether the issues presented in the proposal are best dealt with through legislation, government regulation, or company-specific action; ▪ The company's approach compared with its peers or any industry standard practices for addressing the issue(s) raised by the proposal; ▪ Whether the company has already responded in an appropriate or sufficient manner to the issue(s) raised in the proposal; ▪ Whether there are significant controversies, fines, penalties, or litigation associated with the company's environmental or social practices; ▪ If the proposal requests increased disclosure or greater transparency, whether or not sufficient information is publicly available to shareholders and whether it would be unduly burdensome for the company to compile and avail the requested information to shareholders in a more comprehensive or amalgamated fashion; and ▪ Whether implementation of the proposal would achieve the objectives sought in the proposal. 	Catholic Advisory Services Recommendation: Generally vote in favor of social and environmental shareholder proposals that seek to promote good corporate citizenship while enhancing long-term shareholder and stakeholder value. - Whether implementation of the proposal would achieve the objectives sought in the proposal.; and
- Whether the proposal addressed substantive matters that may impact shareholders' interest, including how the proposal may impact shareholders' rights.

Rationale for Change:

This change clarifies the Catholic Advisory Services International policy approach on environmental and social-related shareholder proposals, which reinforces a consistent case-by-case framework for such proposals across all markets and also serves as a baseline for other shareholder proposal topics that are not covered by specific ISS benchmark policies in the relevant markets. This existing global policy specifies a case-by-case analysis and a consistent set of key factors for consideration. The proposed update maintains this approach, introducing one additional factor to the global E&S Shareholder Proposals policy: "Whether the proposal addresses substantive matters that may impact shareholders' interests, including how the proposal may impact shareholders' rights."
